support accessible human augmentation

Celebrate with us and make human augmentation accessible in our fourth year of BDYHAX in Austin, Texas at LZR on February 23-24, 2019. Share your latest bodyhacks, biohacks, brain hacks, or whatever amazing body-oriented technology you're proud of with our audience of first adopters, researchers, early investors and the best tech, health, and culture media from all over the world.

We'll learn and discover together across 2 days of talks, including invited talks from stellar national and international guests as well as submitted presentations from researchers on the bleeding edge of human augmentation technology. We'll get our hands on some of that technology at The Hub, with a combination of expo booths and technology demonstrations throughout the weekend. On Saturday night, we'll dance at The Wormhole, our party celebrating the fiction of dystopian and utopian cyborg media.

We can help put you in the spotlight while we work together to make human augmentation accessible.
